MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT:

Communication can not be a one way thing. CMNA should be an organization of and for the collectors of the Rocky Mountain area. One of the first things I would do in this message is state that any member having questions, comments or suggestions about the CMNA to drop me a line about them.

I would also like to take this opportunity to welcome Mike Ferrone to the post of CMNA newsletter editor. I'd also like to thank outgoing editor Doris Mason for her past years of work. Putting out a publication is one of the most thankless chores in any group. However without a good publication any group suffers.

While we are on the subject of newsletters, anybody that has anything in the way of articles contact Mike! His address is available elsewhere in the newsletter.

As you might know, I've just returned from 6 1/2 month stay in Baggs, Wyoming where I was working as Assistant Chief of Police. I'd like to express my thanks to everybody who has welcomed me back "home" to Cheyenne. It looks as though I'll be settling back into Cheyenne permanently. It only proves how accurate the old story is about the native son leaving home and saying "Goodbye forever," I'll be back in a year".

It has been interesting to talk with people about the coin hobby the last few months. I attended the annual ANA seminar at Colorado Springs in July. Some comments I heard at the seminar were

"Currency has been amazingly popular the last few months..."

"The nice thing about Parthian Coinage is that nothing seems to affect the market. The pieces I need are always hard to get."

"Lately I've started studying die varieties on a series of foreign coins. I've had more fun with them in the last few months and none of them cost me over 20¢ each!"

"I've really gotten into XF coins. There isn't as much debate on grading them as the uncirculated pieces and the slight circulation proves they did what they were meant to do - be the coinage of the land."

At the CMNA Show in Cheyenne I spoke with dealers from over a wide area as well as collectors. The feeling I got from talking with them was despite the recent years focus being placed on gold and silver and investments the collector is still out there. I'm glad to hear it. He always a fun person to be around.

One of the most interesting things to be made available by Uncle Sam is the new uncut currency sheets. Having seen them I must admit I like them and am glad that they are being returned to the collector market place after a halt of the government sales for decades. I predict that there will be an increased interest in currency because of the uncut sheets. A framed sheet draws everybody's attention which is a natural lead in that "yes, I'm a numismatist." Another nice take I use is "You see I'm a currency collector and I just drive up to the Bureau and pick mine up uncut. It's cheaper that way." Seriously these notes are an attention getter and give you a good opportunity to start a person becoming interested in the hobby.

One thing that I was glad to hear is that a special block of numbers is being used for the uncut sheets. This will certainly help in the verification of any "errors" made by the larcenous at heart who have access to a good sharp pair of scissors.

In case you haven't done so already, mark the annual ANA midyear convention on your calendar. This years get-together will be held at Colorado Springs, February 18 to 21st, 1982. Chairman Bill Henderson guarantees that the ice area will be used only for Hockey, figure skating and curling. The only regrettable thing about this move of the coin show to warmer quarters will be that we won't be able to use a lot of cold cash jokes we've been saving up. For those who get enjoyment on slipping down the side of the hill with two pieces of plastic tied to your feet, a special ski holiday (at the Keystone Resort I believe) has been scheduled before the show. Why do I keep seeing in my mind a ski lodge, filled with collectors bearing contusions, sprains, strains and assorted fractures arguing about MS 70 being theoretical?

Don't forget -

EDITOR'S NOTES

A New Editor:

The first thing I would like to do is introduce myself. My name is Mike Faraone. I am a captain in the Air Force assigned to the Air Force Academy. Numismatically, I am a Life Member of the ANA (2219), the Florida United Numismatists (FUN-LM #308), and the Numismatic Error Collectors of America (NECA-LM #52). I am a member of the CWNA, PAK, the Colorado Springs Numismatic Society, and the Colorado Springs Coin Club. My main interests are in U.S. coins, mostly, Morgan dollars.

Secondly, I would like to thank Doris Mason for the outstanding job she has done as editor of the newsletter for the past several years. It seems you do not appreciate the job someone has done until you have to do it yourself. Thanks Doris, from all of us.

Thirdly, I hope that everyone will continue to support our newsletter by submitting articles and/or information about your local club.

Send info to: MIKE FARAONE
Box 537
USAF Academy, CO 80840

*Thanks!
Mike*

LIFE MEMBERSHIP:

Anyone can obtain a Life Membership at this time, if you have been a member for 2 or more years. The membership charge is $75.00. Are there any Life Members that does not have a metal Life Membership card? If so please contact the Secretary-Treasurer.

THE UPCOMING MID-WINTER ANA CONVENTION

Our fourth midyear ANA convention will be held at the Broadmoor from 18 to 21 February, 1982. The 143 bourse tables to include a non-competitive exhibit area will be located in the International Center, not over the ice rink. The International Center is across the street from the Broadmoor Main. Broadmoor West is reached by means of a hotel shuttle bus.

Special Off-Season Room Rates: Special off-season room rates have been established for those attending the convention, one person daily as follows: Main Building, $46; South Building, $56; West Building, $72. The rates are $3 more for two persons in a room. These very special rates prevail only for reservations made on a postage pre-paid form available from ANA Headquarters, P.O. Box 2366, Colorado Springs, CO 80901. Reservations must be made at least 45 days prior to arrival date.

Noncompetitive Exhibits: The only class of exhibits at the midyear convention is noncompetitive. Applications can be obtained from Ken Hallenbeck at ANA Headquarters. Each exhibitor will receive a special uniface Medal of Participation in recognition for his or her contribution to the convention.

Convention Program Patrons: The convention program will include a list of patrons, whose contributions will help pay for the printing, as well as page and half-page advertisements at $100 and $60 respectively. Write for a "patron" form to Max Stucky, and send advertising copy with remittance to program editor Pat Black, both at ANA Headquarters, P.O. Box 2366, Colorado Springs, CO 80901.

A Special Treat for Skiers: A six-day, five-night preconvention ski trip is planned to KEYSTONE. Keystone Mountain is covered by a highly sophisticated and computerized snowmaking system. It is the only area in the Rockies to cover more than 80 percent of its mountains, top to bottom, with man-made snow, thus not depending on Mother Nature. Keystone has the capability of producing the equivalent of one foot of snow over fifteen football fields every day, meaning that participants of the midwinter ski adventure can ski every day regardless of snowfall.

The trip is set from Friday evening, February 12, through Wednesday, February 17. Participants will be met at Denver's Stapleton Airport and travel to the high country 75 miles west of Denver via special bus. Arrangements can be made with Brink's Armored Service to pick up dealers' material and hold it in safekeeping for delivery to Colorado Springs at the end of the ski adventure and before the opening day of the fourth midyear convention.

Planned activities start with a special breakfast, Keystone area briefing and "eyeopeners" on the morning of the 13th. Adna G. Wilde, Jr., ANA president and former ski-trooper, will lead the group and share his knowledge of the area with fellow collectors and winter enthusiasts. Two days of lift tickets are provided as part of the adventure package. Skiers at Keystone are covering two mountains -- Keystone Mountain and Arapahoe Basin. Together they offer 810 acres of diverse trails covered by 15 lifts, including two spectacular triple lifts.

On Tuesday evening, February 16, there will be a farewell cocktail party for the group, and on Wednesday morning a bus will bring the adventurers direct to the Broadmoor via a spectacular route through and over the Rocky Mountains.

Cost of the package, including all taxes and tips, varies according to the facilities desired. A studio room that is a convertible living room/bedroom and designed for two persons, is $365 per person for the six-day/five-night adventure. One-bedroom units, containing a separate bedroom, are $413 per person, but a third person charge is only $170. A two-bedroom unit, containing two separate bedrooms and designed for four persons, is only $331 per person.

All units have kitchen facilities and there is a full-service grocery nearby. Keystone is a complete resort village and all accommodations are close to it with free shuttle buses operating throughout the area.

Further details and reservations can be obtained through Guide Travel System, Inc., P.O. Box 2557, Colorado Springs, CO 80901, phone (303) 635-1515. A $100 deposit must accompany each reservation. All applications received after December 15 will be accepted on a space available basis.

Convention Souvenir Sheet: The Bank of Ruby City, Colorado is highlighted in a beautiful American Bank Note Souvenir Sheet that is available thru pre-registration or at the convention for $3.50. The check dated 188_ has a vignette depicting three miners looking at ore with picks in hand and candle lit mining hats. The souvenir sheet description reads, "Ruby City was a typical small mining settlement in Colorado during the mining fever days of the late 1800's and early 1900's. It was a short-lived camp, so named for the ruby-colored silver ore found there. Plotted in 1879 less than a mile from IRWIN, another mining camp, the division between the two vanished in less than a year and the name "IRWIN" prevailed. At the peak of activities, the 3,000-odd souls encamped in Irwin had several hotels, a theatre, the bank, numerous general stores, AND 26 saloons on its main street. Pay dirt gave out in 1883-4 and the area was quickly deserted . . . "

Spouses' Brunch and Local Tour: The brunch will commence at 9:30 a.m. on Saturday, February 20, at the elegant Garden of the Gods Club and will be hosted by ANA President Adna Wilde and his wife Joan. Also available after the brunch is a bus tour of the local area to include the Garden of the Gods, Manitou, and the Van Briggie Pottery works. Souvenir Van Briggie/ANA coffee mugs will be offered to tour goers at a moderate cost (less than $6).

Former Mayor of Colorado Springs, Bill Henderson (ANA treasurer) will conduct the tour. Cost of the brunch is $10 or $13.50 to include the tour.

Denver Mint and Air Force Academy Tour: Friday, February 19, 7:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. A continental breakfast will be served to tour-goers during the ride from the Broadmoor to downtown Denver. On the return trip, the bus will take the exit north of Colorado Springs to the Air Force Academy, Colorado's number one tourist attraction, for a special tour by June Hallenbeck, wife of ANA Assistant to the Executive Vice-President, Ken Hallenbeck. Lunch will be served at the Officer's Club and will include a special presentation on the Shroud of Turin.

Bureau of the Mint and U.S. Post Office: Both the Mint and Post Office will be present at the convention. A special cancellation has been prepared.

Auction: A 2,000 lot auction will be conducted by Kurt Krueger. The sessions are slotted for - 6:30 p.m. THURSDAY, 18 FEBRUARY
1:00 p.m. FRIDAY, 19 FEBRUARY
1:00 p.m. SATURDAY, 20 FEBRUARY

Catalogs should be available at the convention.

ANA Banquet: The ANA banquet has been changed to Friday night, 19 February, instead of Saturday.

Summit County Bank

Kokomo, Colorado, until the founding of Robinson, monopolized the trade of the Ten Mile District, about twenty miles from Leadville. The town was located on the 8th of February, 1879, by Mr. A. C. Smith, afterward Mayor, one of the early pioneers of Colo.

Beginning in the spring of 1880, the town grew rapidly, and soon possessed two hotels, the Summit House and Western, a church, the bank of Ordean, Myers & Co., the Summit County Times, published by Coe & McCready, "at a higher altitude than any other paper in the world," handsome stores, and a number of pleasant residences.

Two smelters were built at Kokomo, the White Quail and the Greer. Kokomo's prosperity was of brief duration and a few years later it began to fall into ruin. The town site was buried by the Climax Molybdenum Company's dump in the 1960's.

A. L. Ordean, of the well known banking firm of Ordean, Myers & Co., of Ten Mile District, was born in Pennsylvania, August 22, 1856. At an early age, he removed with his parents to Wooster, Ohio, and later to Canton, same state. In 1874, he entered the banking house of Harter & Sons, of that city, as bookkeeper, and there remained until 1878. He then went to Abilene, Kansas, as Cashier of the Abilene Bank. In April, 1879, he came to Colorado, and established the Summit County Bank at Kokomo. In June following, he accepted the position of Assistant Cashier of the First National Bank in Leadville, where he remained until the fall of 1880; then returned to Kokomo, and in February, 1881, opened a bank at Robinson, under the firm name of Ordean, Myers & Co.

Hawaiian Trip Offer Modified

A member of the American Numismatic Association challenged the "Win A Free Trip to Hawaii" offer that the ANA made available to a lucky donor to its building fund. The trip consisted of airline tickets for two to Hawaii, four nights stay at the Hilton Hawaiian Village at Waikiki, an additional two nights at the Kona Hilton on the Big Island, inter-island fare, and transportation from the airports to the hotels. Each $25 cash donation made between May 15 and December 31, 1981, gave the donor a chance on the trip. The challenge was made that this offer constituted a lottery in violation of federal law.

Inquiry with a U. S. District Attorney's office failed to find cause for prosecution. However, further investigation with U. S. Postal officials found a technical violation. ANA was informed that no action would be taken unless a formal charge was made or if the ANA rules for the drawing were modified. Drawings are permissible if entry forms allow anyone to enter and do not predicate eligibility on making a contribution.

The ANA board of governors, by mail vote, rescinded the Hawaii prize drawing. Any person who has donated to the building fund with the intent of entering the drawing may request a refund. As of October 31, more than $25,000 had been so raised. Those not requesting a refund will still have their tax deductible receipt and the satisfaction of knowing that they helped their Association enlarge its facilities to provide more and better services to its members and the public.

However, the dream vacation for two to the Hawaiian Islands has NOT been cancelled. It will still be available to some hard-working member of the Association and his or her guest. ANA officers and employees and members of their immediate families will not be eligible.

The trip, including coach or economy class airfare from any airport serviced by American Airlines, six nights in luxurious Hilton Hotels (four at Waikiki and two at Kona), airport to hotel transportation, inter-island fare, a sightseeing trip and a welcome lei for each, will be awarded to the individual ANA member who personally recruits the most new members in a six-months period between January 1 and June 30, 1982. Each application will have to be endorsed personally. Printed signatures, including rubber stamping, will be excluded. Only the first endorsement on each application will be counted.

Junior, associate, club, regular and life membership applications will be counted equally. To facilitate counting, "Hawaii Trip" should be marked on each such application. Only those applications postmarked during the first six months (January 1 - June 30) of 1982 will be counted in this contest.

Airline tickets will have to be used prior to December 31, 1982, for a stay in Hawaii of not more than 30 days, and will not be valid on certain holidays or other special travel days. The tickets will not be transferable or refundable, and use will be limited to a space available basis.

Promotional considerations for this trip are being made available through American Airlines, Hilton Hotel Corporation and Group Travel Unlimited (GTU).

FOR IMMEDIATE PUBLICATION

Beaming the ANA Building in Colorado Springs

The Colorado Springs headquarters of American Numismatic Association recently received an item that weighs 11 tons, is nearly a sixth of a city block long and a full story high. Getting it in the building was no problem because the beam was put on top of it. Supported at each end on a freestanding column and some 20 inches above the roof of the present building, the purpose of the steel truss is to support the face of the new second story addition that overlaps a third of the present structure.

Such construction is necessary because the walls of the original building are not suitable for supporting the additional weight of a second floor.

Growth of the Association's membership (40,593 at present) and expanded services since the building was constructed in 1966 have made it inadequate. Chief among the factors causing the crowding was the move of the certification service into the headquarters in November, 1976. From a staff of four and a monthly receipt of 300 coins at that time, ANACS has grown to 29 employees and received 11,891 coins (in 2,145 packages) in September. It seems certain that the ANACS workload will continue to grow considerably and require even more space than it occupies at present.

ANA's monthly magazine, The Numismatist, has nearly doubled in size since 1966. To give its enlarged editorial staff adequate work space, quarters were rented about a block from headquarters in March for occupancy until the building addition is completed. The space thus released is occupied by ANACS.

- m o r e -

A third badly crowded facility or activity is the library, one of the most important ANA services. The shelf and work space that was more than adequate in 1966 is less than half of what is needed today, without even providing for the continued growth that is inevitable.

Some of the books and other items available for use today are not conveniently shelved, while some material is in inaccessible storage. The latter includes the Coole library of Chinese numismatics, the unique reference collection on this subject, and microfilm of Coin World and Numismatic News.

In addition, the library maintains, stores, schedules and ships the visual education slide sets, which have been increased from some 50 copies of 25 subjects in 1966 to 250 copies of 72 titles now.

Various other activities have been added or enlarged, occupying space for which plans were not originally made. About a third of the lower level, intended for a storage and work area, was converted to a three-gallery museum and theater in 1974. A medium-size room full of printing equipment is in constant use to supply forms and much other ANA printed material originally purchased from vendors. The in-house computer installed last year added to the crowding with its equipment and personnel.

Yes, the addition is vital to successful functioning of ANA, and work is progressing toward its completion and occupancy next spring. The drive to raise a million dollars for building and furnishing it is well past the halfway mark. Members are responding well to the drive as they pay their 1982 annual dues. Contributors to the ANA receive a receipt for use in claiming an income tax deduction, and contributions of $10 or more are acknowledged in The Numismatist. The mailing address is ANA, P. O. Box 2366, Colorado Springs, CO 80901.
